Lover's Leap Rock Climbing

Hwy 50 @ Strawberry, California

There are few locations in the climbing world as famous and renowned for its climbing as Lover's Leap. This 500-foot-tall granite monolith towers over the Highway 50 Corridor just 20 Minutes from Lake Tahoe and just over an hour and a half from Sacramento. For decades its been the training grounds for California's greatest climbers and has become a rite of passage for climbers from all over the world. Lover's Leap Is The Perfect Location For Beginning Climbers. Lover's Leap and the surrounding areas offer over 250 rock climbing routes, most of which are a high-quality beginner to intermediate rock climbs. Short approaches and a high concentration of quality climbs make Lover's Leap a primer location for people looking for multi-pitch rock climbing.
